

*To be the body of the Lord in this world,
to have His Spirit coursing through my soul,
to know the passion of my Jesus in His love of ev'ryone,
to show His mercy in the shadows of this land.*

Come, walk with me; come, share my life,
you must know the shadows
if you would know the light.

No eyes have I, no ears to hear,
you must be My Body and show
My Father's care.

Open your eyes, see what I see.
For this world how I suffer.
Share My destiny.

I am the vine, branches are you.
Life from Me eternal to make your world anew.

One bread, one cup; one heart and mind.
One great human people
in fellowship divine.
